Hi there!

Chipping in my $.02 from Germany I just like to ask for some intellectual, human "THINKING".

Microsoft has brought itself into the position it faces now, because of not following the law.

Please remember that the findings in that big case brought to daylight that Microsoft engaged in lying, fraud, suppression and manipulating so-called objective studies and even paying analysts.

Have them bleed.

If I remember correctly, they have some $15bln in cash.

Everything less than $10bln cash penalty is peanuts to them, keeping in mind that that other trial, with Judge Thomas Penfield Jackson unfortunately being removed from the case, will now, under the Bush-administration, probably lead to NOTHING!

Thanx,
